

Once upon a time there was four sisters: Kayla, Jillian, Hailey and Jade and their little sister, Elizabeth. “Hey do you want to make cupcakes?” said Jade with excitement. “I want to,” said Kayla, Jillian, and Hailey all at once. “Great,” said Jade. “I’ll go get the things we need.”

All of a sudden their Mother came along. “Kayla, find out everyone’s favorite color and I will make the frosting,” she said. I will have “wellow”, said Elizabeth in the cutest voice. “Ok,” said Mother. “I’ll make some yellow, as long as you help your big sister ask everyone what their favorite color is.”

Kayla wanted pink. Jade wanted aquamarine. Jillian wanted purple and Hailey wanted orange. Of course, Elizabeth wanted yellow.

Mother went to work making the colors. The five sisters made the batter. Each girl made two of their favorite colored cupcakes. Then they ended up making cupcakes for the local town bake sale. The girls asked, “Mother, can we have sprinkles and cherries on top of the cupcakes?” “Yes, you can.”

The girls spent all morning frosting and baking cupcakes. “Can we make green cupcakes?” Kayla asked. “Sure,” said Mom. “Oh no, I don’t have any more frosting.” “We will go to the nearby store and get some more,” said Jillian. But, when they got to the store they were out of frosting.

“I can’t understand why all of the frosting would be gone,” puzzled Hailey. “Well, there is a bake sale,” said the sales lady. “We were making cupcakes for the bake sale.” “I guess we will have to go home,” said Kayla. Elizabeth started to cry.

When they got home, their mother had enough frosting to make one more cupcake. “Why don’t you go ask your brother to build you a stand for your cupcakes,” mother said. When the stand was finished the girls brought it to the bake sale. They were crowned the best cupcakes makers at the bake sale! That night the girls slept very well

The end -- cupcake
